

1/25/12

Call your child's school counselor...

...if you have academic, social, or emotional concerns regarding your child

...when you have a family transition (separation, divorce, death,...) that is affecting your child at school

...if you have a question about conflicts between individuals

...when your child is grieving a loss (death of family member or even a pet)

...if your child is having difficulty adjusting to school

...with questions about course selection and post-secondary plans

...for information on standardized testing

...to request a gifted screening

These are but a few situations with which you may want to contact your child's school counselor. Our counselors are available to assist you with a variety of additional issues and concerns.