Meet The Teacher

Victoria Fine

Hello! I am so excited to share my eighth year at BASH with you! I earned my bachelor's degree from West Chester University and my master's degree from Gwynedd Mercy University. My husband and I have a feisty toddler who thinks he is a T-Rex, and a cat who knows she is a T-Rex.

Norms and Expectations

Cell Phones

Cell phones will be placed in the phone caddy for safe keeping during class. This includes airpods/headphones and may apply to smart watches if they become an issue. Cell phones will remain in the caddy and may be picked up as students exit the room at the end of class. Inappropriate cell phone use will result in disciplinary action.

Late Work

Work is expected to be submitted on time. Formative assignments will be accepted for a week past the due date with no late penalty. Beyond that point, the grade is a zero. Summative assignments will be accepted at any point after the due date within the marking period. However, if a summative assignment is submitted after the due date the student forfeits their opportunity for revisions on that assignment.

Absences

Students must check the "What Did I Miss?" doc posted in Google Classroom if absent. Formative assignments should be handed in by the late date, referenced above. Summative assignments are still expected to be turned in even if the student is absent. Extenuating circumstances will be handled on an individual basis.

Revisions

Any summative assignment may be revised at any point through the school year as long as the original assignment was submitted on time. Students must request to revise. While revisions are not capped at a particular percentage, they do not guarantee a certain grade. There will be a cut-off date for revisions before the end of the school year.
