

A Letter to Parents and Guardians

Parents: You're an Important Part of Your Child's Education Communication is the Key

“The school's best ally in the task of nurturing a student's innate 'urge to learn' is, first and foremost, the parents.”- Bernie Poole, Education for an Information Age

The transition to high school can be difficult for many, so that is why students, no matter what the age, need a strong pillar of support from home. All of the information you need to help your child can be found on this site or by contacting me. The material we will be covering this year is available through my webpage on the school district website.

You can also view a day-by-day listing of what we covered in class, work collected, and a rough outline of upcoming material by viewing the class calendar. All instructions are provided so absent students can make up assignments while they're out. Research has shown that parental involvement is the most important factor in a student's success in school. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me either through email or by phone. If you would like to discuss the progress of your child in my class or for any other reason, I would be happy to schedule a meeting.

Thank you for your time,
